Peter McIntyre, DDS

I am humbled and grateful to my colleagues for this honor.

"As a kid, I fished the Animas River barefooted in the warm Durango summers. I have always loved biology and the study of living things. After graduating from Palmer High School, I pursued a biology degree at UCCS, followed by a respiratory therapy degree, a dental hygiene degree, and culminated my studies in a DDS degree in 1986 from the University of CO Health/Science Center School of Dentistry. Learning new things has been a constant passion in my life! Because of my enthusiasm for learning, I still pour myself into trainings for the latest techniques at conferences and hands-on classes."

At Briargate Advanced Family Dental the goal of our team is to be welcoming to all patients, especially those who might be afraid to go to the dentist. Dr. McIntyre naturally lightens the office atmosphere with his humor and youthful antics. For 36 years Dr. McIntyre's heart has been in providing the latest dental procedures and technology. Conveniently located behind the Briargate Post Office, one of the favorite office hangouts is the beautiful fountain that flows into a 650-gallon fish and turtle tank. Dr. Mc often lets children feed the fish and turtles as he teaches them about ecosystems.

Additionally, Dr. McIntyre has served the special-needs community most of his career, even receiving the ARC's Presidential Award in 2008 for saving a patient's life. In addition to seeing these patients in the office, he also cares for them in a hospital setting if needed.

Comprehensive dentistry is Dr. McIntyre's philosophy—the highest quality at a reasonable cost. He takes into consideration all aspects: how the teeth fit together, which could affect the TMJ or headaches; how the smile looks aesthetically and if you like what you see in the mirror; gum disease, which affects the stability and longevity of your teeth; and the size and functionality of your airway, which can affect sleep and cardiac and cognitive issues in negative ways.

We welcome you and your family!
